Shared economy marketplace for services online
has arrived

Problem?

Yes, there was one

- ◆ In an ever more challenging economic and employment market situation, people are looking for to make extra money from home/office/anywhere.
- ◆ Companies are looking for a way to cut costs and outsource small projects, but are lacking a transparent and reliable way to do so on a flexible and online basis.
- ◆ We address these two needs and problems with one combined new and simple solution where security is the No. 1 priority.

Is there a solution ?

- ◆ We have created an online platform for anyone over 18 years of age to sell services online & for small and medium companies to buy services/products online with a 100% money back guarantee.
- ◆ To make it simple we created a shared economy for services deliverable over the internet or original/hand crafted products.
- ◆ The bottom-line:

“Buy, sell and earn online safely.”

The screenshot shows the homepage of Jomido, a platform for buying and selling services. The header includes the Jomido logo, a search bar with the text 'suche', a shopping cart icon, an email icon, an 'admin' link, a language dropdown set to 'de', and a button for 'Anzeige einstellen'. A navigation menu lists various service categories: Grafik und Design, Onlinemarketing, Übersetzungen und Texte, Programmierung und Tech, Video und Audio, Geschäftlich, Lifestyle, Verrücktes, Bauwesen, Produkte, and Jobangebote. The main content area features the headline 'Einkaufen, verkaufen und verdienen.' followed by a search bar containing 'Dienstleistungen, Produkte, Benutzernamen' and a blue 'FINDEN' button. At the bottom of the main area, three icons represent search results: a magnifying glass, a Euro symbol, and a shield.
